

Fish licences issued by Fish and Game, 1980/81 to 2013/14 seasons

Title	Fish licences issued by Fish and Game, 1980/81 to 2013/14 seasons
Publisher	New Zealand's Environment Reporting Series: The Ministry for the Environment and Statistics New Zealand
Description	Fresh water in New Zealand is highly valued for recreational activities, including fishing. Freshwater angling (primarily for introduced 'sports fish' such as brown trout, rainbow trout, and chinook salmon) is a popular leisure activity. Fish licences issued by Fish & Game New Zealand provide an indication of recreational fishing activity at freshwater locations around the country. This dataset relates to the "Participation in recreational fishing" measure on the Environmental Indicators, Te taiao Aotearoa website.
